AVITECH & PFIZER/EMBREX REACH AGREEMENT ON PATENT LITIGATION

Salisbury, MD - AviTech, LLC, announces that it has resolved the patent litigation concerning its IntelliJect® in ovo vaccine delivery machines with Embrex, a subsidiary of Pfizer, Inc. The patent litigation that was pending in the United States District Court in Baltimore, Maryland, has been settled and the lawsuit dismissed with prejudice.

As of the result of the settlement, AviTech remains free to manufacture, sell and lease its range of delivery machines and AviTech's customers are free to continue to purchase, lease and use these machines.

The settlement enables AviTech to refocus its efforts on research, development, and manufacture of the latest in ovo technology.
